A Bibliography of the Holdings of Special Collections in the Gelman Library

Works of fiction give us insight into the social customs and concerns of a given time and place. They also enlighten us with regard to the reading and intellectual tastes of the period. The Special Collections Department is engaged in an ongoing effort to build a comprehensive set of novels, short stories, plays, and children's books set primarily in and around Washington, D.C. from the 19th and 20th Centuries.

This bibliography lists those titles held in the collection as of July 2007. As additional items are acquired and cataloged, they will be added to this bibliography as time and staff resources permit.

Also included are several early works not set in Washington, D.C. but which were printed in the District.
