RESEARCH & PROJECT MANAGEMENT EXPERIENCE

- German Scholars Organization (GSO). 2004-2009
- Representative for North America 04/2008-01/2009
Organized conference in the United States with the heads of Germany’s Leibniz Association and represented the GSO in forums of higher education policy-making.
  - Keynote Speaker & Advisor 2004-04/2008
Presented on the reform agenda for Germany’s higher education system in California and Germany, the latter of which was an invited presentation for the German Federal President in Berlin. Advised GSO board on strategy and outreach efforts.
- The Monitor Group, Munich. Strategic Management Consultant Summer 2008
- Contributed to four projects. I worked on a strategic positioning paper for the Monitor Group, in which I brought my own research to bear on recommendations for corporate organizational alignment. On another project, I prepared and co-facilitated a workshop on using cluster analysis to inform public efforts at promoting regional competitiveness.
- Berkeley Roundtable on the International Economy (BRIE). Research Associate 2003-2007
- Coordinated and conducted research for BRIE’s research program on the changing terms of global competition in the Digital Era. Analyzed how the international unbundling of production and the digitally enabled transformation in services are shaping companies’ competitive challenges and governments’ public policy agendas.
  - Led a five-person, transatlantic team in planning and running a two-day conference on “Innovation and Adaptation: What Does It Take For Wealthy Countries To Sustain Growth?” Conceived of the topic and structure; applied for funding; drafted the conference budget; identified European and American participants from the realms of academia, business and policy. Conference description online at <http://brie.berkeley.edu/conf/>. Prepared and participated in three other policy workshops held in Berkeley and London.
  - Coordinated and wrote a large funding application by UC Berkeley to the EU Commission for a European Union Center. Worked with four different campus institutes to prepare the application.
- Department of Political Science, UC Berkeley. Graduate Researcher 2002-2006
- Interviewed members of the government, legislators, and representatives from business and labor in Europe as part of my dissertation research and for a project on “The Politics of Institutional Change in Germany: The Case of Statutory Pension Insurance” by Associate Professor J. Nicholas Ziegler.
  - Contributed research and analysis to a project on “Globalization and Institutional Change in Japan and Germany” by Professor T.J. Pempel.
