Please join the Space Policy Institute for a presentation by:

Mr. Guoyu Wang
Deputy Dean, Institute of Space Law
Beijing Institute of Technology

Tuesday, December 9th, 2014
12:00 pm-2:00 pm
Elliott School of International Affairs, 1957 E St. NW
Room 403

RSVP to Colleen McKnight, Staff Assistant for the Space Policy Institute at spi@gwu.edu or 202-994-1592

Mr. Wang will lead a brown bag lunch discussion on the topic of Space Crisis Management (SCM) and the potential collaborative approach between Europe and China. Mr. Wang’s discussion on a theoretical and strategical level offers an “equilibrium theory” guiding the selection of SCM rationale, and analyzes the equilibrium in space competition and cooperation. In particular, he will examine the necessity and feasibility of the coordination and cooperation between Europe and China as well as give relevant recommendations. Light refreshments will be served. We hope to see you there!

Biographical Sketch: Mr. Wang is currently the Deputy Director for the Institute of Space Law at the Beijing Institute of Technology (BIT). In the past, he has served as a Chinese delegate to the United Nation Committee on the Peaceful use of Outer Space (UNCOPUOS), the Scientific and Technical-Subcommittee (STSC), and the Inter-Agency Space Debris Coordination Committee (IADC) Meeting. Mr. Wang just recently finished working as an Academy Senior Fellow at Chatham House (Royal Institute of International Affairs) in the U.K. He has an expertise in legal and political analysis on emerging international mechanisms/forums for safety, security and long-term sustainability of outer space activities, space crisis management, and national space legislation, in particular with the U.S. and China.
